ATHLETIC FIELD COVERS

Reef Industries manufactures Griffolyn® athletic field covers to protect your baseball field, softball field and football field during periods of nonuse. Griffolyn® is performance engineered to be highly resistant to tears and punctures and is UV stabilized to withstand extended exposure to adverse weather conditions.

Griffolyn® athletic field covers are constructed using high strength, internally reinforced polyethylene laminates. This lightweight material resists rough handling and can endure daily use, year after year. Griffolyn® covers can be custom manufactured to your exact specifications and are available in blue or white. They are cold-crack and moisture resistant to help protect and maintain the integrity of your field's surface.

When weather events threaten the condition of your baseball field, softball field or football field, you need an athletic field cover that is quick and easy to install. Settle for nothing than the pros, demand the quality of Reef Industries' football field covers, baseball field covers, softball field covers, sideline covers and infield tarps.
